

Rachael Speedstacking on TV

Contributed by Discovery Channel
Thursday, 15 October 2009
Last Updated Thursday, 15 October 2009

Rachael is a 14-year-old freshman at Oregon Episcopal School in Portland, Oregon. Last night she demonstrated her remarkable speedstacking ability on national TV. Enjoy this clip from the popular Time Warp show on the Discovery channel.

This 5¾-minute video is a 60MB flash file. It will take a moment to begin playing depending on your connection speed.

To see the high-resolution or full-screen HD version requires a plugin called Photodex Presenter (pxplay). You may need to select "Manual Install".

```
PresenterObject("ProShow","objectname","/video/RachaelDiscover.px",720,405,true);
```

You can play full screen with right mouse-click. Very cool. All popular browsers are supported, but you need to be using a Windows computer.

This 5¾-minute video is a 176MB file. It will take a moment to begin playing depending on your connection speed.

View Rachael's personal videos on